

Total War - Shovel

Written by Vinavil McMillan

Wednesday, 25 August 2010 11:07 - Last Updated Sunday, 29 August 2010 22:22

TOTAL WAR SHOVEL

With your Total War Shovel you are now able to accomplish the quests and missions you receive by playing Total War.

Now gaining Total War Points, Total War Cards and even Linden $ is easy!

You can obtain missions by hunting Total War Monsters: as soon as you find one you will receive a message and if you click the message icon on your Total War HUD you can see the last active quest.

To accomplish a mission you need to wear the Total War Shovel: you will not see the shovel on your avatar, don't worry, that's fine, you are going to see it at the right moment, but you can notice three new icon in you HUD.

The message you received indicates the exact location you need to go: press the Map Icon to open Map menu and teleport yourself. You can always check your position by clicking the Sextant icon.

As soon as you are near the target press the Shovel icon to start digging. (N.B. after a teleport the icon will be deactivated for a while to allow Second Life to load the parcel).

On your Profile page on www.tokunowind.com (that you can reach by clicking World button in your HUD) you can check your mission diary and have any information about active mission you have to finish and history of accomplished quests.

Be aware you can only accomplish the last active quest, the one you can read by clicking the message icon in your HUD. Digging over the spot of a quest different from the one active will not return anything usefull.